

STAT

25 January 1972

General Taylor:

I talked to Joe Becker of Becker and Hayes with regard to the present status of COSATI and what is proposed for the future. He told me that COSATI has been placed under Mel Day who heads the office of Science Information Service of the National Science Foundation. Joe referred to the new director of NSF as Guy Stephens. He said that [redacted] is the chairman of a group which is reviewing the COSATI charter. He rattled off the names of some members of this group, most of whom are from industry. They expect a final report from this group in April.

STAT

STAT

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/06/24 : CIA-RDP79M00097A000300030003-4

Next 1 Page(s) In Document Exempt

Approved For Release 2004/06/24 : CIA-RDP79M00097A000300030003-4

OFFICE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
WASHINGTON, D.C.

3 Feb., 1969

General Robert Taylor
Chairman, IHC

Attached you will find several documents that reflect recent COSATI activities.

To further strengthen our mutual exchange of information, I would like to cordially invite you to the next COSATI meeting on 19 February. Attached are a copy of the Agenda and the minutes of the last meeting. The Swanson paper is a summary of the recently released SCI Study. At the COSATI meeting, you will receive a briefing of the recently completed PML Study on Project Reporting. We look forward to your visit.

Andrew A. Aines
Chairman, COSATI

STAT

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/06/24 : CIA-RDP79M00097A000300030003-4

Next 10 Page(s) In Document Exempt

Approved For Release 2004/06/24 : CIA-RDP79M00097A000300030003-4